Dear Mr. Weisberg:

I appreciated very much your courtesy when I checked back with you on your book "Whitewash" last week.

You might be interested in seeing the story that ran in the Sunday, June 5, issue. With the space limitations and national desk instructions, I am sorry that everything but the single-bullet hypothesis got forced out of the story. In any event, perhaps the mention at least of your book may get you some more attention and some discussion of your views.

Sincerely yours,

Peter Kihss
